PASTOR

The Battle Creek S. D. A. church has no regular pastor, but the word is preached every Sabbath by those ministers resident in the place, or by others who may providentially be in the city on the Sabbath day. At the present time, April 15, 1894, Elder Henry Nicola is stationed at Battle Creek, and is expected to assist in the spiritual oversight of this large congregation.MBC94 4.1

SABBATH SERVICES

Divine services are held in the Tabernacle every Sabbath, at 10:45 A. M. There are no other general meetings in the Tabernacle on the Sabbath.MBC94 4.2

A large and interesting Sabbath-school is held every Sabbath, at 9 o'clock A. M., continuing until 10:30.MBC94 4.3

On the fourth Sabbath of each month, a public collection is taken up before the sermon, to be used wholly in missionary work.MBC94 4.4

The ordinances of the Lord's house—the sacrament and the ordinance of humility—are celebrated four times each year,—at the commencement of every quarter, on the evening after the Sabbath.MBC94 4.5

The seats of the Tabernacle are all FREE; and strangers, and Sabbath-keepers from other localities, are ALWAYS WELCOME.MBC94 4.6

APPOINTMENTS DURING THE WEEK

Once a month, on the first Tuesday evening of the month there is a meeting of all the district leaders and church elders to consider the spiritual interests of the church as connected with the various districts. This meeting is held in the north vestry of the Tabernacle at 7 o'clock in the winter, and at 7:45 in the summer. On these occasions the presiding officer is virtually brought in contact with every Sabbath-keeper in Battle Creek, whether he belongs to this church or not. MBC94 4.7

Monday evening, at 7:15, there is a meeting of the Sabbath-school officers and teachers, for consultation, and study of the various lessons. Place of meeting, east vestry of the Tabernacle. MBC94 4.8

Every Tuesday afternoon, at 1:30, there is a meeting of the Maternal and Dorcas Society, the members of which spend the afternoon in repairing and fitting garments for the needy in the church. These working meetings are held in the maternal room in the Tabernacle. MBC94 5.1

Sabbath afternoon, at 4 o'clock in the summer, and at 3 o'clock in the winter, prayer and conference meetings are held in sixteen different places in the city, to maintain a healthy, spiritual state in the church. MBC94 5.2

Wednesday evening the general missionary meetings of the church are held in the various districts. At these meetings in the first week of each month the subject of FOREIGN MISSIONS is considered. At the second week's meeting the RELIGIOUS LIBERTY topic is taken up. The meeting of the third week is occupied with the subject of HOME MISSIONS. And at the meeting of the fourth week the HEALTH AND TEMPERANCE question is considered. Time of meeting, 7 P. M. MBC94 5.3

Once a month, beginning with the third week in January, on Thursday evening, at 7 o'clock in winter and 7:30 in summer, the Church Officers meet in the Committee Room of the Tabernacle to attend to the business matters of the church. Special meetings may be called at any time. By vote of the congregation all its business interests, temporal and spiritual, are first considered and acted upon by this meeting.MBC94 5.4

“HELPERS.”

Every member of the church in the several districts should be a helper in Christ. Personal work should be done by every one. If, then, there is a case of sickness or want, or neglect in attending the meetings, the brethren and sisters will find it out, and should report the same to the leaders at once. If a new family of Sabbath-keepers moves into the district from some other party of the city or from another State, or some one moves out, the brethren and sisters should make a note of this, and report the same to the leaders. Points of interest thus mentioned can sometimes be made use of in the meetings. And at the monthly meeting of the leaders, the minister in charge, or church elders, will be brought in touch with every Sabbath-keeper in Battle Creek, whether he belongs to this church or not.MBC94 7.6

This arrangement is practically the same as that which is maintained in all well-regulated camp meetings.MBC94 8.1

Every Sunday morning, at 7 o'clock, all the employees of the Review Office meet in the chapel. A hymn is sung, the Scriptures are read, and prayer offered. Generally some one of the managers makes remarks for the benefit of the Office laborers.MBC94 8.9

There are two regular weekly prayer and social meetings for laborers in the Review Office. One is held in the Office chapel, Monday evening, and continues from 6:10 to 7 o'clock. The other is held on Friday evening, and continues from 7 till 8:30.MBC94 8.10

RELIGIOUS PRIVILEGES OF ABSENT MEMBERS

Very frequently brethren and sisters of this church who live in some far-off locality write that they “do not have the privilege of meeting with those of like precious faith,” but that they are of the class of “the lonely ones.” Such persons are entitled to the sympathies of those who have the privilege of assembling together. But occasionally we find that some of these very ones do not take any of our papers. To such we emphatically say, Take the Review and Herald. In many instances this is the only preacher the “lonely ones” have. But in the ample pages of our good church paper any and all may have a feast to the soul every week. There are also other valuable journals, as the Signs, the American Sentinel, Good Health, and Home Missionary, which bring out many precious things connected with this cause. If any absent member of the Battle Creek church is in such straitened circumstances that he or she cannot take the Review, if they will report this fact to the elders, they will see that such persons have the paper. MBC94 9.7

FOUR STREAMS OF BENEVOLENCE

The Providence of God has established among Seventh-day Adventists for the support of the ministers and other laborers, and to maintain other branches of the one great cause of truth, four perpetual streams of benevolence, which are flowing steadily into the treasury of the Lord. These are: The Lord's Tithe, The Sabbath-School Offering, The First-Day Offering, and The Fourth-Sabbath Offering. MBC94 9.8

THE TITHE

“All the tithe is the Lord’s,” and in putting it into his treasury we only render to him that which is his own. The tithe should be paid to the treasurer of the church, whether you live in Battle Creek or elsewhere. The church treasurer never pays the tithe to the minister, but sends it to the Conference treasurer, and from him it is only drawn out by order from the president of the Conference.MBC94 10.1

THE SABBATH-SCHOOL OFFERINGS

This is not a penny collection for some local enterprise, but a voluntary offering on the Sabbath day, large or small, nearly all of which is used to carry the truth to different foreign fields. This is sent by the secretary of the school to the secretary of the State Association. For the first six months of 1894, the Sabbath-school offering goes toward carrying forward our missionary operations in Mashoualand, South Africa.MBC94 10.2

THE FIRST-DAY OFFERING

This is so called because it is a voluntary offering made every first day of the week. Each person is to give as the Lord hath prospered him, and the object of the offering is wholly for foreign missions. This is paid to the library of the church, and is sent by him to the secretary of the State Tract and Missionary Society.MBC94 10.3

THE FOURTH-SABBATH OFFERING

This is a voluntary offering made on the fourth Sabbath of each month. It is paid to the librarian, and is used only for home missionary work. MBC94 10.4

THE CHRISTMAS OFFERING

Though this is not one of the four streams, it is a Christmas gift, once a year, to send the everlasting gospel of Christ our Saviour into all the world. It is to give the people of all nations the light and knowledge of our Lord's second coming, which is so soon to take place.MBC94 10.5

REPORTING

It is the sacred duty of all non-resident members of the church to report their standing every quarter. There are four quarterly meetings each year, held on the first Sabbath of the months of January, April, July, and October. The reports of absent members are always mentioned at the quarterly business meeting of the church, and generally extracts from them are read for the encouragement of those assembled. These reports should be sent in two weeks before the various quarterly meetings, and may be addressed thus:—MBC94 11.1

CLERK OF THE SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST CHURCH.
Battle Creek, Mich.MBC94 11.2

And such reports should be accompanied with the Lord's tithe. The fourth Sabbath donations for missionary work, and gifts for the Lord's poor, in which all should bear some part, may be sent with the tithe. Even if the tithe and donations are small, very small, they should faithfully be sent in. In sending money, P. O. orders, or draft on bank, are altogether safest.MBC94 11.3

HOW TO APPLY FOR A LETTER TO ANOTHER CHURCH

Persons wishing to transfer their membership from one church to another, should make application for letters to the clerk of the church of which they are members, giving the address of the clerk of the church with which they wish to unite. Letters of commendation are passed from one church to another, but do not go into the hands of the individual making the application.MBC94

POST-OFFICE ADDRESSES

Quite a number of the members of the Battle Creek church are not residents of this city, but are scattered from New England to California, and from the Gulf States to the extreme north. Some of these are not careful, in reporting, to give their addresses. Sisters marry, and their names are changed, and there are those who do not see the necessity of even reporting at all; and as these persons go from Battle Creek, and move from place to place, their post office addresses are hopelessly lost. It can thus be seen at a glance MBC94 11.5

that the clerk of this church should have the true and full address of every non-resident member. It is also desirable in this large church that there be as few non-resident members as possible; this is the late recommendation of the president of the General Conference. Recently the names of some have been dropped because they fail to report, and do not furnish us their addresses. Many of this class do not get the usual annual church letter, which is intended for all absent members, and which gives important facts concerning the work of God here, that all should have. MBC94 12.1

SOME THINGS WHICH SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS BELIEVE

The S. D. A. people have no creed or discipline except the Bible, but the following are some points of their faith upon which there is a quite general agreement:—MBC94 12.2

That there is one God, a personal, spiritual Being, the Creator of all things, omnipotent, omniscient, and eternal; infinite in wisdom, holiness, justice, goodness, truth, and mercy; unchangeable, and that he is everywhere present by his representative, the Holy Spirit.MBC94 12.3

That there is one Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Eternal Father, the one by whom he created all things, and by whom they consist; that he took on him the nature of man, for the redemption of our fallen race; that he dwelt among men, full of grace and truth, lived our example, died our sacrifice, was raised for our justification, ascended on high to be our only mediator in the sanctuary in heaven, where, through the atoning merits of his blood, he secures the pardon and forgiveness of all who penitently come to God through him; and as the closing portion of his work as priest before he comes again as King of kings, he will make the final atonement for the sins of all believers, and blot them out, as foreshadowed and prefigured by the Levitical priesthood.MBC94 12.4

That the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments were given by inspiration of God, and contain a revelation of his will to man, and are an infallible rule of faith and practice.MBC94 12.5

That baptism is an ordinance of the Christian Church, to follow faith and repentance,—an ordinance by which we commemorate the burial and resurrection of Christ; and that no other mode fitly represents this except that which the Scriptures point out, namely immersion. Baptism is the outward sign of an inward work.MBC94 12.6

That the new birth, or conversion, comprises the moral change necessary to make us children of God; and that this is to be followed by a Christian life. That no one can be a true child of God except by conversion, which is the work of the Holy Spirit, changing and renewing the carnal heart, which in its natural state is at enmity with God and his law.MBC94 13.1

That prophecy is a part of God's revelation to man; that a blessing is pronounced on those who study it; and, that as the Saviour himself has called attention to Daniel's prophecy (Matthew 24:15), it is but reasonable to suppose that the prophecies may be understood; that the world's history, the rise and fall of empires, is outlined in numerous great chains of prophecy, and that these prophecies are now all fulfilled except the closing scenes.MBC94 13.2

That the doctrine of the world's conversion and a temporal millennium is a fable of the last days, calculated to lull souls into a state of carnal security, and cause them to be overtaken by the day of the Lord as by a thief in the night; that the wheat and the tares are to grow together until the end, and that wicked men and seducers are to wax worse and worse.MBC94 13.3

That the Lord never brings judgments upon men without due warning; consequently the great second advent proclamation which has been stirring the world for the last half century, is in the order of God, and that the error of Adventists in 1844 pertained to the nature of the event then to transpire, and not to the time. The sanctuary was to be cleansed at the end of the 2300 days, but that cleansing was not the burning of the earth, as the people supposed; it was Christ's final work as our High Priest in the sanctuary above.MBC94 13.4

That the sanctuary of the new covenant is the tabernacle of God in heaven, the antitype of the earthly tabernacle erected by Moses in the wilderness; and that the cleansing of the sanctuary corresponds to the investigative judgment in heaven, which immediately precedes the second coming of Christ.MBC94 13.5

That God's moral requirements are the same upon all men, in all dispensations (for "the Lord changeth not"); and that the law of God on tables of stone in the earthly sanctuary, was but a transcript of the original in the archives of glory.MBC94 13.6

That the fourth commandment of God's law requires that we devote the seventh day of each week to abstinence from our own labor, and to the performance of sacred and religious duties; and that this is the only weekly Sabbath recognized in the Bible, being the day that the Lord set apart in Paradise before man fell.MBC94 14.1

That the man of sin, the papal power, has thought to change times and laws (the law of God), and has misled almost all Christendom in regard to the fourth commandment; and that there are numerous prophecies of a great Sabbath reform to be wrought among believers just before the second coming of Christ.MBC94 14.2

That the followers of Christ should be a "peculiar people," not following the maxims and ways of the world, not loving its pleasures nor indulging in its follies, inasmuch as the apostle says "that whosoever will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God."MBC94 14.3

That the Scriptures insist upon plain and modest attire as a mark of discipleship in those who profess to be followers of Christ, and therefore that the wearing of gold, pearls, and costly array, merely for adornment, is contrary to the Scriptures, and should not be indulged in by Christians.MBC94 14.4

That means for the support of the gospel should be contributed from love to God and not raised by lotteries, fairs, or festivals; that the tithe of one's earnings belongs wholly to God (see Leviticus 27:30), and we will be given to him by those who stand in the light.MBC94 14.5

That all mankind have broken God's law, and come short of his glory; and that we are wholly dependent upon Jesus Christ for justification from past sins, and for strength to obey God in time to come.MBC94 14.6

That Christians are constantly beset by three enemies: the world, the flesh, and the Devil; and that to be preserved from backsliding and ruin, we should take up our daily cross, watch unto prayer, study the Bible, in the meetings bear a testimony to the goodness of God, and work while the day lasts in doing good to others.MBC94 14.7

That temperance and purity are continually enjoined in both the Old and New Testaments; therefore the use of spirituous drinks and tobacco should not be tolerated; also that tea, coffee, and the use of flesh as food, do not constitute a healthful diet.MBC94 14.8

That there is a personal, wicked spirit called the Devil and Satan, the enemy of God and his children, that old serpent who deceived our first parents, and who goeth about like a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour, whom we should resist in the faith, knowing that the God of peace will finally bruise Satan under our feet.MBC94 14.9

That the subject of spiritual gifts is a doctrine clearly taught in the Scriptures, being repeatedly set forth in various books of the Old and New Testaments; and we learn from history that the gifts have continued all along the gospel dispensation; and there is the strongest evidence that the spirit of prophecy has been manifested among those who keep the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus during the last half century.MBC94 15.1

That civil government is ordained of God, for the interests and good of society; and that magistrates should be prayed for, and honored and obeyed, except in things opposed to the will of God who is the only Lord of the conscience.MBC94 15.2

That for over half a century God has been sending forth to the world the great second-advent proclamation concerning the soon-coming of his Son, and that this last phase of the gospel is symbolized by the three messages of Revelation 14, the last message bringing to view the Sabbath reform on the law of God, that his children may obtain a complete readiness for the coming of Christ.MBC94 15.3

That the cleansing of the sanctuary synchronizes with the time of the proclamation of the third message, the last work of the gospel, and is a time of investigative judgment, first with reference to the righteous dead, and secondly, at the close of probation, with reference to the living saints, to determine who of the myriads now sleeping in the dust of the earth are worthy of a part in the first resurrection, and who of its living multitudes are worthy of translation.MBC94 15.4

That modern spiritualism is one of the grossest, most unscriptural, and seductive errors of the day, being based entirely on the heathen and Protestant belief that man is conscious in death.MBC94 15.5

That the grave, whither we all are tending, is, as the Bible says, a place or state in which there is no work, device, wisdom, or knowledge; that death is a condition of total unconsciousness, the believer's life being hid with Christ in God.MBC94 15.6

That out of this prison-house of the grave, mankind are to be brought by a bodily resurrection; the righteous having part in the first resurrection, which takes place at the second advent; the host of the wicked coming up a thousand years later, at the second resurrection.MBC94 15.7

That just prior to the coming of Christ, probation will end, when the seven vials of God's wrath will be poured out upon the heads of the wicked who have hardened their hearts against the entreaties of God's Spirit; then men will run to and fro through the earth, to seek the word of the Lord, and shall not find it.MBC94 16.1

That at the last trump, the living righteous are to be changed in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, and with the resurrected righteous are to be caught up to meet the Lord in the air, and so forever to be with the Lord.MBC94 16.2

That these immortalized ones, with Christ at their head, then ascend to heaven, to the New Jerusalem, in which there are many mansions, where they reign with Christ during the thousand years, judging the world and fallen angels; that during this time the earth lies in a desolate and partially chaotic state, being the prison-house of Satan, where he is to be finally destroyed.MBC94 16.3

That at the end of the thousand years, Christ descends with the redeemed and the Holy City, the New Jerusalem; the wicked dead are raised, and come up on the surface of the unrenewed earth, and gather about the city, the camp of the saints, when fire descends from God out of heaven and devours them. This is the everlasting fire prepared for the Devil and his angels, the awful perdition of ungodly men.MBC94 16.4

That new heavens and a new earth shall spring, by the power of God, from the ashes of the old, and that this renewed and regenerated earth, with the new Jerusalem for its metropolis and capital, shall be the eternal inheritance of the saints, the final abode of the righteous, where they shall evermore dwell.MBC94 16.5
